Introduction to the Personal Data (Privacy) Ordinance

Personal Data (Privacy) Ordinance

Legislative Background

•Personal Data (Privacy) Ordinance came into effect on 20 December 1996

Amendment of the Ordinance

- •Gazette published on 6 July 2012
- •All amendments came into force

Objectives of the Ordinance

• Protecting the privacy right of a "data subject" in respect of "personal data", but general privacy issues are not protected.

"Data Subject"

A data subject refers to the living individual who is the subject of the "personal data" concerned.

Definitions under the Ordinance

- "Personal Data" should satisfy three conditions:
- (1) relating directly or indirectly to a living individual;
- (2) from which it is practicable for the identity of the individual to be directly or indirectly ascertained; and
- (3) in a form in which "access to" or "processing of" the data is practicable.

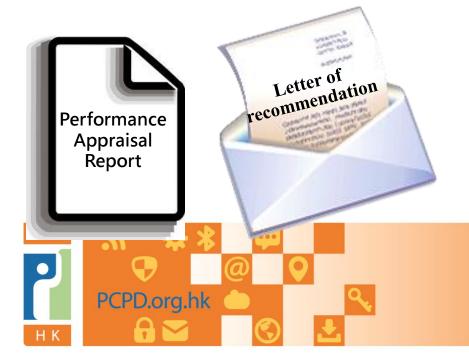

Definitions under the Ordinance

"Data":

any representation of information in any document, including expression of opinion or personal identifier (e.g. ID Card Number).

The Alpha Corporation Personal Information Collection Statement pertaining to Recruitment

The personal data collected in this application form will be used by the Alpha Corporation to assess your suitability to assume the job duties of the position for which you have applied and to determine preliminary remuneration, bonus payment, and benefits package to be discussed with you subject to selection for the position.

Purpose Statement

Personal data marked with (*) on the application form are regarded as mandatory for selection purposes. Failure to provide these data may influence the processing and outcome of your application.

Obligatory or optional to provide data

It is our policy to retain the personal data of unsuccessful applicants for future recruitment purposes for a period of two years. When there are vacancies in our subsidiary or associate companies during that period, we may transfer your application to them for consideration of employment.

Classes of transferees

Under the Personal Data (Privacy) Ordinance, you have a right to request access to, and to request correction of, your personal data in relation to your application. If you wish to exercise these rights, please complete our "Personal Data Access Form" and forward it to our Data Protection Officer in the Human Resources.

Access & correction right

Principle 1 – Purpose and manner of collection

Personal Information Collection Statement (PICS)

 Should ensure that a PICS is effectively communicated to the data subjects. Considerations include the layout and language used in the PICS.

• Should define the purpose of use and class of data transferees with a reasonable degree of certainty 14

Principle 2 – Accuracy and duration of retention

- Data users shall take practicable steps to ensure the accuracy of personal data held by them.
- All practicable steps must be taken to ensure that personal data is not kept longer than is necessary for the fulfillment of the purpose
- If a data user engages a data processor to process personal data on the data user's behalf, the data user must adopt contractual or other means to prevent any personal data transferred to the data processor from being kept longer than is necessary for processing of the data

Principle 3 – Use of personal data

• Personal data shall not, without the prescribed consent of the data subject, be used for a new purpose.

• Allow a "relevant person" to give prescribed consent for the data subject under specified conditions

New purpose means any purpose other than the purposes for which they were collected or directly related purposes

Principle 4 – Security of personal data

- All practicable steps shall be taken to ensure that personal data are protected against unauthorized or accidental access, processing, erasure, loss and use
- Security in the storage, processing and transmission of data.
- If a data user engages a data processor to process personal data on the data user's behalf, the data user must adopt contractual or other means to prevent unauthorized or accidental access, processing, erasure, loss or use of the data transferred to the data processor for processing

Principle 5 – Information to be generally available

Data users have to provide

- (a) policies and practices in relation to personal data;
- (b) the kind of personal data held;
- (c) the main purposes for which personal data are used.

Privacy

Policy

Principle 6 – Access to personal data

- A data subject shall be entitled to

 (a) request access to his/her personal data;
 (b) request correction of his/her personal data.
- Data user may charge a fee for complying with the data access request

PERSONAL DATA (PRIVACY) ORDINANCE DATA ACCESS REQUEST FORM

Important Notice to Requestor

- Please read this Form and the footnotes carefully before completing this Form. Where this Form contains a summary of the relevant requirements under the Personal Data (Privacy)
 Ordinance ("the PDPO"), the summary is provided for reference purpose only. For a complete and definitive statement of the law, please refer to the PDPO itself.
- This Form is specified by the Privacy Commissioner for Personal Data ("the Commissioner") under section 67(1) of the PDPO with effect from 1 October 2012. The data user may refuse to comply with your data access request ("your request") if it is not made in this Form (see section 20(3)(e) of the PDPO).
- Please complete this Form in Chinese or English. The data user may refuse to comply with your request if your request is not made in either language (see section 20(3)(a) of the PDPO).
- To make a data access request, you must either be the data subject or a "relevant person" as defined in section 2 or 17A of the PDPO (please refer to Part III of this Form).
- 5. You are not entitled to access data which is not personal data or personal data not belonging to you (see section 18(1) of the PDPO). The data user is only required to provide you with a copy of your personal data rather than a copy of the document containing your personal data. In most situations, the data user may elect to provide a copy of the document concerned. If the personal data you request is recorded in an audio form, the data user may provide a transcript of that part of the audio record which contains your personal data.
- 6. It is important that you specify in this Form clearly and in detail the personal data that you request. The data user may refuse to comply with your request if you have not supplied him with such information as he may reasonably require to locate the requested data (see section 20(3)(b) of the PDPO). If you supply any false or misleading information in this Form for the purpose of having the data user comply with your request, you may commit an offence (see section 18(5) of the PDPO).
- Do not send this Form to the Commissioner. The completed Form should be sent directly to the data user to whom you make your request.
- The data user may require you to provide identity proof such as your Hong Kong Identity Card and may charge a fee for complying with your request (see sections 20(1)(a) and 28(2) of the PDPO).
- The data user may refuse to comply with your request in the circumstances specified in section 20 of the PDPO.

Important Notice to Data User

- 1. You are required by section 19(1) of the PDPO to comply with a data access request within 40 days after receiving the same. To comply with a data access request means: (a) if you hold the requested data, to inform the requestor in writing that you hold the data and supply a copy of the data; or (b) if you do not hold the requested data, to inform the requestor in writing that you do not hold the data (except that the Hong Kong Police may inform the requestor orally if the request is whether it holds any record of criminal conviction of an individual). A mere notification given to the requestor to collect the requested data or a note sent to the request for payment of a fee is insufficient. In complying with the request, you should omit or otherwise not disclose the names or other identifying particulars of individuals other than the data subject.
- If you are unable to comply with the data access request within the 40-day period, you must inform the requestor by notice in writing that you are so unable and the reasons, and comply with the request to the extent, if any, that you are able to within the same 40-day period, and thereafter comply or fully comply, as the case may be, with the request as soon as practicable (see section 19(2) of the PDPO).
- If you have a lawful reason for refusing to comply with the request pursuant to section 20 of the PDPO, you must give the requestor written notification of your refusal and your supporting reasons within the same 40-day period (see section 21(1) of the PDPO).
- It is an offence not to comply with a data access request in accordance with the requirements under the PDPO. Any data user convicted of such an offence is liable to a fine at level 3 (currently set at HK$10,000) (see section 64A(1) of the PDPO).
- 5. You may charge a fee for complying with a data access request, but section 28(3) of the PDPO provides that "no fee imposed for complying with a data access request shall be excessive". The PDPO does not define the meaning of "excessive" with regard to imposing a data access request fee. According to the principle laid down in the decision of Administrative Appeal No. 37/2009, a data user is only allowed to charge the requestor for the costs which are "directly related to and necessary for" complying with a data access request.
- 6. You shall refuse to comply with a data access request -
 - (a) if you are not supplied with such information as you may reasonably require -
 - in order to satisfy you as to the identity of the requestor,
 - (ii) where the requestor purports to be a relevant person, in order to satisfy you -
 - (A) as to the identity of the individual in relation to whom the requestor purports to be such a person; and
 - (B) that the requestor is such a person in relation to that individual;
 - (b) subject to section 20(2) of the PDPO, if you cannot comply with the request without disclosing personal data of which any other individual is the data subject unless you are satisfied that the other individual has consented to the disclosure of the data to the requestor; or

Guidance on Direct Marketing

PART 1: Introduction

Purpose of guidance

- 1.1 Direct marketing is a common business practice in Hong Kong. It often involves collection and use of personal data by an organization for direct marketing itself and in some cases, the provision of such data by the organization to another person for use in direct marketing. In the process, compliance with the requirements under the Personal Data (Privacy) Ordinance (the "Ordinance") is essential. This document is issued by the Privacy Commissioner for Personal Data (the "Commissioner") to provide practical guidance on data users' compliance with the new regulatory requirements for direct marketing under the new Part VIA of the Ordinance1. It helps data users to fully understand their obligations as well as to promote good practice. Data users should also make reference to other laws, regulations, guidelines and codes of practice that are relevant for direct marketing purposes insofar as they are not inconsistent with the requirements under the Ordinance.
- 1.2 This Guidance shall take effect on the same date as the date of commencement of Part VIA of the Ordinance (the "commencement date"). It will supersede and replace the Commissioner's "Guidance on the Collection and Use of Personal Data in Direct Marketing" issued in November 2012. For the avoidance of doubt, until Part VIA of the Ordinance takes effect, the Commissioner's "Guidance on the Collection and Use of Personal Data in Direct Marketing" remains fully valid.

What is "direct marketing"?

- 1.3 The Ordinance does not regulate all types of direct marketing activities. It defines "direct marketing" as:
- (a) the offering, or advertising of the availability, of goods, facilities or services;
- (b) the solicitation of donations or contributions for charitable, cultural, philanthropic, recreational, political or other currence.

through direct marketing means?

"Direct marketing means" is further defined to mean:

- (a) sending information or goods, addressed to specific persons by name, by mail, fax, electronic mail or other means of communication; or
- (b) making telephone calls to specific persons.
- 1.4 Hence, "direct marketing" under the Ordinance does not include unsolicited business electronic messages and personto-person calls being made to phone numbers randomly generated.

The new Part VIA under the Ordinance was introduced by the Personal Data (Privacy) (Amendment) Ordinance 2012. It will take

- 3 Section 35A)
- Please refer to the Unsollicited Electronic Messages Ordinance (Cap. 593, Laws of Hong Kong) enforced by the Office of the Communications Authority.

Offences

- Contravention of DPP is not an offence. The Commissioner may serve an enforcement notice on the relevant data user directing the data user to remedy the contravention.
- Non-compliance with an enforcement notice commits an offence and carries a penalty of a fine at $50,000 and imprisonment of 2 years.
- Same infringement of the second time commits an offence and carries a penalty of a fine at $50,000 and imprisonment of 2 years
- Repeated non-compliance with enforcement notice carries a penalty of a fine at $100,000 and imprisonment of 2 years, in case of a continuing offence, a daily fine of $2,000

Offences

- Section 64 provides that "A person commits an offence if the person discloses any personal data of a data subject which was obtained from a data user without the data user's consent
 - a) With an intent
 - 1) to obtain gain in money or other property, whether for the benefit of the person or another person; or
 - 2) to cause loss in money or other property to the data subject; or
 - b) the disclosure causes psychological harm to the data subject.
- Max penalty: a fine of $1,000,000 and 5 years' imprisonment
