

Note to Reader :

This set of handouts is prepared to supplement the seminar experience on “Have fun online, Beware of these five” conducted by Sean Lin. Readers are expected to have attended the seminar in person in order to achieve the intended learning goals, as the seminar contains materials such as interactive discussion and illustrative explanation which are impracticable to be represented in the form of handouts. Reading the handouts alone without attending the seminar is not advisable as the entire presentation experience consists of information in an enormous amount exceeding this set of handout.

Contents of Section

Chapter:	200 	Title:	CRIMES ORDINANCE	Gazette Number:
Section:	161	Heading:	Access to computer with criminal or dishonest intent	Version Date:	30/06/1997

(1) Any person who obtains access to a computer-

- (a) with intent to commit an offence;
- (b) with a dishonest intent to deceive;
- (c) with a view to dishonest gain for himself or another; or
- (d) with a dishonest intent to cause loss to another, whether on the same occasion as he obtains such access or on any future occasion, commits an offence and is liable on conviction upon indictment to imprisonment for 5 years.

(2) For the purposes of subsection (1) "gain" (獲益) and "loss" (損失) are to be construed as extending not only to gain or loss in money or other property, but as extending to any such gain or loss whether temporary or permanent; and-

- (a) "gain" (獲益) includes a gain by keeping what one has, as well as a gain by getting what one has not; and
- (b) "loss" (損失) includes a loss by not getting what one might get, as well as a loss by parting with what one has.
